Rider Switch, Explained

How the whole family rides the big stuff, even when someone can't, or won't.

Rider Switch lets you ride the headliners without leaving anyone out, and nobody waits in line twice.

HOW IT WORKS

1

Head to the attraction entrance together and tell a Cast Member you'd like Rider Switch. They'll scan your tickets and tell you where to come back.

2

One adult waits with the child, or anyone sitting it out, while the rest of the group rides.

3

When the first group gets off, up to two people from the waiting group go to the Rider Switch entrance and board without the standard wait.

GOOD TO KNOW

Just ask at the entrance. A Cast Member sets it up on the spot.

It works for more than height limits: anyone who can't ride, or won't, and can't wait alone, like a napping baby or a nervous kid.

It's offered at 22 attractions across all four parks.
